

Homeowners Can Take Preventative Action

Homeowners that live in a subdivision with a pond or other stormwater control practice can take action to prolong the life of that practice. Ponds, infiltration basins and bioretention basins all need regular maintenance to keep functioning well. Restoring worn out practices can be extremely expensive. Learn what you can do to keep your stormwater practice working longer at www.waukeshacounty.gov/cleanwater. See the three brochures, Bioretention Maintenance, Infiltration Maintenance and Stormwater Pond Maintenance under “News and Events”